ARTISTS AND TRADESMEN.

In the Early Days the Former Had a Struggle to Live.Among the artists resident in Glasgow who had acquired before 1840 somewhat of a reputation Graham Gilbert, Horatio Macmillan and Daniel Macne are those most widely known to general fame. To these men fell the prizes of the profession such as they were at that time. Prices were then on a scale that would not please the popular landscape and portrait painters of today.The smaller men—not very numerous, it is true, and yet some of them most deserving—had a tolerably hard struggle for existence and had to eke out their income by other work than that of regular picture painting. Macmillan and Macne themselves made money in their younger days by decorating the lids of snuffboxes. The average painter was frequently pretty much of a bohemian, living from hand to mouth and glad to clear off a tradesman's bill by painting the portraits of the worthy shopkeeper and his wife.One of our best known artists tells us how on occasion in the long years ago when he was engaged at a sitter's house on the portraits of a successful clergyman and his family the dinner-hour arrived. He was not considered "gentle" enough to be asked to take a place at the table, but the mistress of the house kindly sent to the parlor, where he was working, a plate of stewed rhubarb to keep him from wearying while the family fed.—Magazine of Art.

Is a Countess and a Brewer.

A unique occupation for a woman is reported from Berlin. The proprietor of a large brewery there received a request from a Russian lady to be shown the interior arrangements of the brewery.
After looking at various processes through which the golden beverage has to go the lady inquired for several details of the pneumatic machinery in the malthouse, which proved to the brewer, to his great surprise, that she was perfectly familiar with every detail of the entire complicated machinery. Upon inquiry it was learned that the lady, a Russian countess, had a large acreage of barley growing on her estate, and in order to increase her revenue from this source she had built a brewery, which she managed all alone. She was interested much in the pneumatic malting apparatus because she could not get skilled labor necessary for the production of malt on her Russian estates.Testing the product of the Berlin brewery, she stated that her own beer was not much inferior to the German product. When a few days later the brewer received some samples of the lady's Russian beer, he pronounced it excellent and not inferior in any respect to the best Bohemian or German beer.
This lady is believed to be the only woman brewer in Europe.—Philadelphia Record.Sir John Horsbol proved that an iggle 45 miles in diameter and 300,000 miles long would melt in one minute should it fall into the sun.

THE BLOND BRAKEMAN'S STORY.

It May Be Read With Profit by Present Day Record Breakers.The Railroad club met Tuesday evening in the usual place, and after a short business session the boys drifted into "shop" conversation. The fast run of the general manager's special from Hope to Missoula was commented on, and the talk on fast runs became general.
Several stories of remarkable time made on different occasions were related, and when the blond brakeman got the floor he saw he was expected to break the record."Speaking of fast runs," said he,
"why, that little Montana Union line lays over anything I ever saw. No Dutch clocks or anything else to hold a man down there. I worked for that road when Bob Smith was dispatcher, and when he told the boys to 'wheel 'em' we all knew what it meant. One day we were going north and were delayed in various ways until we reached Stewart.
Bob wired the com. at that point that he wanted our train to get to Garrison just as quick as God would let us. We had a clear track when we started, and it wasn't long before the telegraph poles locked into a picket fence. The biggest bunch of speed was reserved for the house stretch—Ladd-Der-Dier to Garrison—11 miles. We didn't stop at Deer Lake, but as we approached that place the engineer sounded the whistle as usual, and you may take my word for it that the 'slow' sign in the Garrison yards wasn't passed by our train before that 'wheel' had ceased to sound."This made the boys look weary, but the "brak'y" hadn't finished yet. He continued:"Well, we put our train away and were resting ourselves when we glanced up the track and saw a dark streak approaching at a lightning gait. We were astounded for an instant, but as it slowed up we readily recognized it as the shadow of the train we had just brought in."And the boys all rose up, and after presenting the relator with a regularly signed report the club adjourned.—

TARIFF AND FREE COINAGE.

The Senate has presented to Mr. Reed, with its compliments, a substitute for his bond bill. As Mr. Reed is in training for the Presidency and therefore in an amiable mood, it is not probable that he will make any public display about the substitute, but that he is secretly wishing the silver Senators an eternal abiding place on the wrong side of heaven those who know his sentiments have no doubt. It is feared that the bill will be consigned to the darkest pigeon hole in the recesses of the Ways and Means Committee's room never to see daylight again during this session of Congress, but, according to report, that will not end Mr. Reed's trouble with the monetary question. It is believed that the Dingley tariff bill, which was passed by the House and subsequently referred to the Senate Finance Committee, will be returned to Mr. Reed with a free coinage amendment.

A bill providing for increasing the duty on imports and for the free and unlimited coinage of silver will be something new in Congress. It will give those who believe in a moderate duty on wool and other products and also in the remonetization of silver an opportunity to vote for both at one and the same time. It will also show the country how the Republicans in the House stand on these questions. That they favor the Dingley tariff bill there is no doubt as they passed it by unanimous vote, but whether they like it well enough to vote for it in connection with a free silver bill remains to be seen.

Will they defeat a tariff bill framed by themselves rather than vote for free coinage? or will they for once assert their independence of the gold combination and vote for a measure that cannot fail to give very general satisfaction as it embraces the principle of protection and financial reform. If low tariff is the cause of dull times, as the Republicans allege, then the Dingley bill will restore prosperity, and if the single gold standard is the cause of the business depression, as the financial reformers allege, if an act increasing the tariff and providing for free coinage is placed on the statutes, prosperity will be assured. At any rate an amendment to the tariff bill providing for free coinage will show the people how Congress stands on these issues and whether Sherman and Reed's hatred of silver overcomes their love for wool.

THE TREASURY STATEMENT.

The official statement of the Treasury Department shows that the expenditures of the Government for January and the seven months of the fiscal year to date have been $196,805,624, an increase of $9,612,000 over the corresponding seven months of the fiscal year 1894-95. The expenditures for the seven months of the current fiscal year have been $213,902,101, a decrease of $5,983,000, as compared with the corresponding seven months of the last fiscal year.

The custom receipts show a gain of $1,696,000 this year over the corresponding months of the last fiscal year, and the internal revenue receipts show a decrease of $3,270,000, and miscellaneous receipts show a gain of $1,180,000, as compared with the corresponding months of 1894-95.

The decrease in expenditures are: Civilian miscellaneous, $6,661,000; navy, $3,069,000; pensions, $1,073,000. The increase in expenditures are: War, $1,080,000; Indians, $679,000; interest on public debt, $2,459,000.

In January, 1896, the receipts were $29,237,670, an increase over January, 1895, of $1,483,000, and over December, 1895, of $2,940,000. The receipts from customs in January last show a loss of nearly $1,000,000, as compared with January, 1895, while internal revenue receipts show a gain of $2,000,000 less than for January, 1895, and $7,000,000 more than for December, 1895.

The gold reserve stood at $19,050,600 last Saturday, but as bids for the new loan are to be opened to-morrow the reserve will probably be increased $100,000,000 in a few days. That the Government should issue interest-bearing bonds for gold to keep in the Treasury to supply the European demand for that metal is one of the great advantages which the Wall-street men see the country derives from the single gold standard.

ILLITERACY IN THE SAGEBRUSH.
The Commissioner of Education has issued a statement showing the percentage of illiteracy to population in the several States. What are called the Inter-mountain States stand high in the list, although Nevada seems to have a larger proportion of illiterate persons in its population than any of the other Inter-mountain States. The names of these States with the percentage of illiteracy and rank are given as follows:

Rank.	Per Cent.
1. Nebraska	3.1
2. Wyoming	3.4
3. South Dakota	4.2
4. Washington	4.3
5. Idaho	5.1
6. Colorado	5.2
7. Montana	5.3
8. Utah	5.6
9. North Dakota	6.0
10. Nevada	12.8

For some reason, probably because several civilized Indians were included in the census, Nevada stands 31st in the list and has a much larger percentage of illiteracy than the other silver producing States, while Nebraska heads the list with only about three persons out of a hundred over ten years of age who cannot read and write. Louisiana stands at the foot of the list with over 45 illiterate persons in every 100 of the population, or nearly four times as many as there are in Nevada.

RUSSIA AND TURKEY.

The Alliance Known at the State Department.

London, February 3.—A dispatch from the St. James Gazette from Washington says that a correspondent of that paper has the highest authority for announcing that the entente cordiale between Russia and Turkey is known at the State Department and that it has a most important effect in modifying a plan the administration had prepared to compel Turkey to pay an indemnity for damage done to American property in Armenia. The correspondent says that in spite of the denials he knows that a naval demonstration was prepared. Secretary Olney entered into a communication with Russia and Great Britain asking if they would oppose the action of the United States against Turkey. Great Britain's reply, he says, was favorable, but Russia informed Olney that she preferred that there should be no naval demonstration, as Russia was negotiating to bring about the restoration of order in Turkey. L. E. De Ketzebe, the Russian Minister to the United States, is said to have informed Olney that Turkey would pay any indemnity required.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

The Silver Bill Goes to the Ways and Means Committee.

Washington, February 3.—In the House to-day Hall, Chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs, reported the Army Appropriation bill. It was placed on the calendar.

At 12:30 the Clerk of the Senate announced the passage in the Senate of the free coinage substitute for the House Bond bill. It was referred, under the rules, to the Ways and Means Committee. A motion to concur was not entertained under the rules.

A bill was passed on the motion of McRae to grant the Arkansas & Choctaw Railroad Company a right of way through the Choctaw Indian nation.

The House went into Committee of the Whole for the consideration of the bill.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

Two piano manufacturers in New York City assigned yesterday. The liabilities are about $300,000.

Bricklayers and hod carriers are on strike at Cincinnati because of a cut in wages. About 3,000 men are affected.

A bill to prohibit pool-selling has passed the lower House of the Kentucky Legislature. It is believed to be the death knell of horse racing in the State.

Emperor William is said to be resolved upon doubling the strength of the German navy. His army is about the strongest in Europe, but his navy is weak.

The latest from Cuba reports the insurgents in a critical condition. It is believed that General Marin aims to strike a death blow at the Cubans before the arrival of General Weyler.

Watt Hall jumped off the cars at Redding, California, yesterday, and had a foot crushed under the wheels. A brakeman saved him from being crushed to death by pulling him from under the train. He is over 60 years of age.

Stephen B. French, formerly Police Commissioner in New York City, committed suicide yesterday by shooting himself through the heart. He had been despondent lately and told his wife she would be better off without him.

The First Unitarian Church on Meeting-House Hill, Dorchester, Massachusetts, was burned yesterday, loss, $30,000; covered by insurance. Four firemen were buried in the ruins, but were rescued by their comrades, though they were more or less seriously injured.

The Bragos river in Texas rose fifteen feet in thirty-six hours. It has a strong current and several vessels were swept away. The Bragos and Navasota rivers have united, forming a stream twelve miles wide and submerging two miles of the Santa Fe railroad track.

Lively times are expected in the Kentucky Senatorial contest this week. Senator Ogilvie (Dem.), who has been ill, is now at Frankfort, and Beckham (Dem.), who was elected to succeed Wilson, deceased, is expected to-day. The ballot yesterday resulted: Hunter, 55; Blackburn, 46; scattering, 11.

The President has sent a message to Congress accompanied by documentary evidence recommending an appropriation for the families of three Italian laborers who were killed by a mob in Colorado, and two of two others who escaped by flight, but incurred pitiable disabilities through exposure and privation.

The action brought by Charles L. Fair against the trustees of his father's estate has been decided by Judge Slack of the Superior Court, San Francisco, against the trustees. The Court holds that the trust clause of the will is void in so far as it relates to real estate, and all there is for the heirs to fight over is the personal property of the estate.

The New Palace Bakery has ice cream and ice cream soda every day. Many other things in the confection, cake and pastry line can be found at this popular bakery, and it will pay any one wishing anything in that line to call and try their goods.

A Correction That Did Not Correct.
EDITOR JOURNAL: The report of the proceedings of the Board of County Commissioners, as published in the Evening Gazette, is a corker, at least in one respect. For instance, it is stated that the "minutes of the last meeting were read and corrected by reconsidering the rejected bill of Assessor Evans." Well, now, that is something new under the sun, indeed. Presumably the minutes of the last meeting showed the fact that the bill in question was rejected. Now, if we are to believe the Gazette report, the board changed the record so as to read that the bill was "allowed," instead of "rejected." Presumably, too, the record of the "last meeting" was in accord with the fact. How then could the board reverse the fact by action to-day. Of course, the action to-day was in direct violation of the law, but then "what are you going to do about it?" Reno, February 3, 1896. H. H. B.

It appears from a letter from G. W. Baker to District Attorney Norcross that special counsel did do something for that $350 in the Central Pacific tax cases. Mr. Baker says they wrote him a letter on the subject and talked with him about it when he was up here in Nevada one time. That ought to satisfy the taxpayers, and if it doesn't, why there is no help for it.

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS.
Wm. Thompson Appears and Files a Written Protest to the Employment of Special Counsel.

The Board of County Commissioners met in regular session yesterday, the full board being present.

The minutes of the last regular meeting was taken up for approval. Mr. Wm. Thompson was present, and in his own and in behalf of other taxpayers protested against the approval of that portion of the minutes wherein the order appears employing Torreyson & Summerfield for the sum of $1,000 to assist the District Attorney in the tax suit against the Virginia & Truckee Railroad. Mr. Thompson said: "I wish to enter a protest to the action of the board in this matter as being illegal and unjust to the taxpayers of this county, and I ask that the contract be annulled and declared void." He presented a communication from Attorney-General Beatty, saying that his services had never been asked, nor had he been consulted, but that he was willing to act in the matter. Mr. Alt moved that the portion relating to the $1,000 fee be stricken out, but the majority of the board remained silent. Finally Chairman Hymer stated that the action had been commenced, and that it would make no difference whether the minutes were approved or not, the attorneys could sue and recover, as they had been regularly engaged. Mr. Hymer requested Mr. Thompson to file his protest in writing, and it would receive the attention of the board. Mr. Thompson then presented his protest in writing, claiming that the engagement of Torreyson & Summerfield was illegal and that the action of the board was without the authority of law, for if the board could contract for $1,000 they could contract for $10,000 or any other sum. He also protested on the ground that the fee of $1,000 was exorbitant and unjust; that the Attorney-General and District Attorney, he believed, were competent and perfectly able to attend to the State and county interests in the suit without the aid of special counsel.

The protest was read and placed on file.

Mr. Alt moved that the vote whereby the bill of Assessor Evans for $75 had been rejected at the last meeting be reconsidered. Commissioners Alt and Cobb voted in the affirmative, Chairman Hymer did not vote.

The rejected bill of Assessor Evans was then taken from last month's business and made a part of yesterday's. The minutes of the meeting of the 6th of January were then approved.

The remainder of the session of the Board was occupied in considering the usual monthly bills.

REJECTED CLAIMS.

What the Law Says Regarding Them.

A correspondent asks: "Can the Board of County Commissioners legally allow a claim against the county which was once rejected by the Board?"

Section 1867 of the General Statutes says: "No claim which has once been presented and rejected, shall ever again be considered or allowed by the same or any subsequently elected or appointed Board of County Commissioners of the same county."

That is the law on the subject, but how Commissioners construe it is another thing.

Gold Hill School Matters.

Professor R. C. Storey, Principal of the Gold Hill School, has been deposed, Miss Annie Schadler of Reno, Assistant Principal, was appointed to take Professor Storey's place until a new Superintendent is appointed. The Enterprise says Gold Hill has been in a continual turmoil of matters scholastic for the last two years. The parents and pupils have been on the one side and Professor Storey on the other. Professor Storey received a salary of $150 per month, and Miss Schadler is to receive $125. Miss Schadler said she preferred remaining in her present position to accepting the Principalship.

GOVERNOR JONES' ABSENCE.

What the Law Says About the Three Months' Limitation.

Governor Jones' continues to improve but is yet very ill. The news comes from San Francisco that arrangements are being made to bring him to Nevada to avoid an absence of ninety days from the State.

There seems to be an impression that the Governor cannot absent himself from the State for more than ninety days continuously without forfeiting his office. The General Statutes, Section 1670, says under the head of "Vacancies."

"Every office shall become vacant upon the occurring of either of the following events before the expiration of the term of such office: * * *

"Seventh—The ceasing of the incumbency to discharge the duties of his office for the period of three months, except when prevented by sickness, or absence from the State, upon leave, as provided by law."

As Governor Jones is prevented by sickness from discharging the duties of Governor it would appear from the above that he is exempt from the three months limitation. In his present State of health it may endanger his life to remove him from San Francisco to Nevada and it appears that there is no occasion whatever for taking the risk.

FRANKTOWN SCHOOL DISTRICT.

The Patrons of the Public School.

There is a disagreement among the members of the School Board at Franktown. It appears that one or more members of the Board invited the County Superintendent of Schools to meet with the Board and endeavor to settle the differences between the members. However that may be I received the following:

J. M. Lamb—DEAR SIR:—I have received a communication from the County Superintendent stating he will be in Franktown, Monday 27th, and desires the presence of you and your friends at 1 o'clock.

HARRY H. CLARK. January 26, 1896.

I went with several of my friends to attend the meeting at 1 o'clock. We met the State and County Superintendents and Trustees Howard. The latter informed us that the meeting was over, it having been held before the appointed time.

Signed. J. M. LAMB, a member of the School Board, and several other patrons of the Franktown school.

FUNERAL OF CHARLES TROSI

Largely Attended by Citizens From the Adjoining Towns.

The funeral of the late Charles Trosi took place at the Summit, Plumas county, Cal., on February 1st. The funeral was attended by all the neighborhood, Clover Valley, Long Valley, Reno, Truckee and Washoe Valley being represented in the procession, making it the largest ever held at Summit.

Charles Trosi was born in Switzerland on the 1st of December, 1844, and when twenty-five years of age landed in this country, where after working in Santa Cruz, Cal., and Virginia City, Nevada, he permanently settled in Sierra Valley. He prospered and in 1852 married and leaves a wife and six children to mourn his loss. He was generous and helpful and just prior to his death was preparing to make large investments in Truckee Meadows property.

PUTTING UP A STOVE.

A Version of the Operation That Rarely Happens In Real Life.This is about a man who put up a stove.It is unnecessary perhaps to go farther with it. You know in advance just how he swore and tore and spoiled the carpet, and the pipe didn't fit and he skinned his knuckles and cut his finger and spilled soot down the back of his neck and finally went up town and got six men to finish the job."Johnson," said Johnson's wife at dinner yesterday, "I want you to come home early this afternoon. I want that sitting room stove up and going by Sunday.""All right, my dear," said Johnson.
"I'll be home at 4."So that afternoon Johnson's wife sent the children over to visit on the other side of town and stuffed rags in all the cracks to deaden sound. After a fervent prayer that all the neighbors would be out of town for a few hours that afternoon she was ready for Johnson.

He arrived promptly.

"The stove is out in the wood shed," said his wife.The stove was not very large, and after Johnson had dressed himself for the occasion, with the help of Mrs. Johnson, who had taken care to have his old clothes and gloves handy, he got the stove to the back porch without much difficulty."It must be blackened," said Mrs.
Johnson as she infused the blacking. It blackened to a beautiful finish with very little rubbing, and Johnson whistled at his work.Then he tucked down the oilcloth ring and the zinc and kept on whistling.
He took the stove in carefully and put it in the right place.There was plenty of the old stovepipe and while he cleaned it in the alley with a stick Mrs. Johnson sat on the back porch and listened to him whistle.The first joint went on all right, and the dinner staid in place. The next joint fitted so well that Johnson almost stopped whistling in sheer admiration for it, and so did the next one. The elbow fitted admirably, and the collar and last joint went on like a top. The seam was on the right side all the way up.There was not even a speck of soot on the paper. Mrs. Johnson had spread on the carpet.In ten minutes more Johnson had a lovely fire in the stove and was in his business suit again spick and span ready to lay the paper while his wife got supper.It was just here that there was a savage mug in Johnson's left ribs and he heard his wife tell him to wake up, and hastily out now, for it had been daylight for half an hour. —Topeka State Journal.

CAUGHT HIS TRAIN ON HORSEBACK.

A Runaway Locomotive Had Many Sleeping Passengers in Tow.Early one morning the engineer and fireman of the Santa Fe overland train, bound east, when near Cajon pass, imagined they saw something on the track right ahead. Thinking the train was about to be wrecked they both jumped.
The engineer was rather badly hurt, but when the fireman picked himself up out of the dust he found that the engine had made kindling wood of a wagon to which two horses had been attached.
Their driver had seen the headlight of the engine and had jumped in time to save himself, and the animals themselves were cropping the dried grass along the roadside, which showed that they had not been greatly disturbed by the accident.But the train, with nobody at the engine's throttle, was plunging away through the darkness, the passengers asleep in their berths, utterly unconscious that they were being drawn by a wild locomotive.The fireman, who had been left behind, thought he would try to overtake the flying train on foot. Then he changed his mind and, jumping astride one of the horses, he set out after the runaway train. He knew it must stop shortly, as it had to climb a very steep grade, and if the fire under the boilers was not kept up the supply of steam would not furnish sufficient pressure to keep the wheels going around. The vagrant train did stop a mile and a half from where the accident occurred. There did not seem to be any reason for an interruption of the journey just at that point, and so the conductor and brakeman hurried alight with their lanterns to ask the engineer what had given out.When they found the cab empty, of course the brakemen were very much mystified. They asked each other a good many questions, and were engaged in lasking up theories to account for the strange disappearance of the engine crew when the fireman came leaping along on the horse he had borrowed.
After explanation had been made, he raced his horse toward this city and caught the first tidings the railroad people had of the missing train. A bucking horse sent out to the scene with another engineer, and as soon as steam was piled the overland went on over the hills through Cajon pass. The same excuse brought the injured engineer to the city. —San Francisco Examiner.
